

ONE MOMENT TO ETERNITY — Julio Contino, 61-year-old World War I veteran, is shown as he hurled himself 17 stories to a smashing death on a New York City sidewalk. According to police he was despondent over money matters and all efforts to dissuade him from jumping from roof of the Veterans Administration Building were futile. Find Woman Slain in Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — U. S. officials today ordered American aid operations suspended in Southeast Iran until police capture the bandits who kidnaped and killed Mrs. Anita Carroll after murdering two Point Four officials and two Iranian assistants.

The decision was announced by Point Four Director Clark Gregory as Iran pledged to "show no mercy" on the desert bandits led by the notorious Dad Shah, who was reported close to the Pakistan border in a desperate race to elude police.

Latest reports from the Razorback Mountains of Baluchistan indicated Dad Shah had picked up reinforcements and was within a day's forced march of the thinly-guarded frontier. Mountain folk said they spotted the hated bandit lord only 20 miles from Pakistan.

The mutilated body of Mrs. Carroll, 35, of Issaquah, Wash., was found Sunday 10 miles from the ambush scene. An Iranian Air Force plane flew her white-draped coffin back to Tehran Sunday night where the Shah paid his last tribute with a wreath of carnations.

She had been shot with a shotgun and stabbed and her body was partially stripped of clothing. She apparently survived the ambush only to be slain later when the bandits discovered she had left a trail for the National Gendarmerie.

Maj. Ali Qoli Golpira, head of the Iranian Gendarmerie (federal police), stepped up his search for the bandits and promised no mercy. The bandits were believed led by the notorious Chieftain Dad Shah, who has a string of murders on his record. Torrential rains handicapped the search—and the flight of the bandits. Only camels could get through some of the wild areas, a land of steep cliffs, and razor-sharp rocks.

The Dad Shah bandit gang is reported to include at least four men and a number of women and children. Eight days ago they set up an ambush on a lonely mountain trail and opened up with shotguns.

Kevin M. Carroll, 37, husband of the kidnapped woman, and Brewster A. Wilson, 35, of Portland, Ore., were killed outright with two Iranians who were accompanying them on their mission of aid. Both men were Point Four officials—the U. S. International Cooperative Administration.

Kills Policeman

Man Runs Down Estranged Wife's Parents, Then Dies in Gun Duel

GALION, Ohio (AP) — State Highway Patrolman Murry C. Youtz remained in a serious condition today from wounds suffered when a berserk father shot him at a roadblock.

Youtz, 25, was shot in the arm and chest. Doctors said one bullet was deflected by a rib.

The wounding of Youtz climaxed a week end of terror which resulted in the deaths of four persons.

The killing spree began Saturday night when Manford Draper, 28, an unemployed railroad worker, ran down his estranged wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pollak in Marion, several miles south of here.

A relative of Draper believed he went berserk because the Pollaks refused to let him visit his daughter, Martha Elizabeth, 6, Draper's wife, Marilyn, and the girl had lived with the Pollaks since last year.

Draper ran the Pollaks down with his auto as they walked in

Tornadoes Hit Across South; 7 Persons Hurt

Leave Trail of Destruction from Texas to Alabama

By United Press

Tornadoes hopped and skipped across the South, leaving a spotty trail of destruction from Texas to Alabama today.

The twisting winds injured at least seven persons and wreaked considerable property damage.

Driving rains accompanied the twisters.

Four persons were hurt, none seriously, when a small tornado ripped through a small section just south of Mobile, Ala., early today.

The tornado toppled a house trailer end over end for 300 yards and tore down trees and power lines.

Three persons were injured and two houses were blown off foundations just before midnight when a tornado slashed across the coastal parish of Plaquemines in Louisiana.

The tornado ripped the roofing from a packing company plant in Nairn, La., and a radio operator in the sheriff's office at Port Sulphur said: "I thought it was Hurricane Flossy hitting again."

Earlier Sunday a tornado funnel was sighted near McComb, Miss., and high winds twisted the tops of trees in the area.

Tornadoes, high winds and floods hit Texas Sunday.

At Baytown, on the Gulf Coast, high winds tore loose a radio station antenna and blew a small boat out of the bay and smashed it against a house 1,000 feet away.

High winds and tornadoes also unroofed houses at Austin, Bryan, Taylor, Belton and Roundrock.

Twenty-two persons were evacuated from a section of West Dallas when faulty drainage led water back up 3 feet deep after the area was pelted by more than 2½ inches of rain.

The weather spasm arose from a disturbance reaching from the Kansas-Oklahoma border to west Texas. It was expected to sweep along the Gulf states as far east as northern Florida.

House Burns In Dorris Heights

Fire caused considerable damage last night to a house in Dorris Heights owned by Coy Swaney and occupied by Charlie Shanks.

Firemen said a defective floor furnace set fire to the flooring beneath the house, with oil from a line that burned into feeding the flames.

There was damage to the flooring, to walls and to a rug, it was stated.

Mr. and Mrs. Shanks found the house on fire when they arrived home at 9:15 p. m.

Father of Mrs. Kenneth Vinyard Dies in Chicago

Richard Baker, 70, died in Chicago at 12:15 a. m. today. He was living with his daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Vinyard, formerly of Harrisburg, at the time of his death. The body will be received by the Harrisburg funeral home and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

HONORED—Clare Boothe Luce, former U. S. ambassador to Italy, has been awarded the University of Notre Dame's Laetare Medal for 1957. She is the sixteenth woman to receive the award, presented annually to an outstanding layman.

Mrs. Bessie Hathaway Wins Harrisburg Days Award; Give Other Prizes

Mrs. Bessie Hathaway, RFD Eldorado, won the Harrisburg Days award Saturday afternoon in the drawing held on the south side of the square.

Saturday's Harrisburg Days award was a hog with the winner to be determined by guessing the animal's weight.

However more than thirty people, mostly women, guessed the correct 272 pound weight and it was necessary to hold a drawing to get a winner.

There were other awards made Saturday in connection with the final day of the three-day city-wide sales event.

The savings account at the Harrisburg National Bank was won by Gladys Partin, RFD 3, Harrisburg.

Baskets of groceries, awarded by the A & P Food Market were won by Mrs. Ida M. Hossler, 924 South Leford; Miss Sue Ann Debes, 115 South Vine; Mrs. Bernice Strader, 122 South Granger.

Everybody was eligible to register for the prizes in the stores participating in the Harrisburg Days event. There was no obligation.

Says No Emergency

Brownell Urges Plan To Replace President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. said today the "hazards of the atomic age" make it imperative that Congress enact without delay a plan for replacing a disabled president.

He denied that the requested change is dictated by any "present emergency" arising from President Eisenhower's heart attack and ileitis operation during his first term in office.

Brownell went before a House Judiciary subcommittee to try to sell its members on Mr. Eisenhower's own proposal for a constitutional amendment which would let the president or his cabinet decide when a president is so disabled that his powers should be delegated to the vice president.

Brownell said the proposal, if approved, probably would not become effective during Mr. Eisenhower's tenure because of the time required to get a constitutional amendment ratified by the states.

Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) said there would be no "emergency" except for Mr. Eisenhower's "double illnesses." He suggested that a simple act of Congress to handle the problem would avoid the two to three-year delay in getting a constitutional amendment approved by the states.

Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) suggested a "two-prong" compromise in which Congress would pass both a law and a constitutional amendment.

Keating predicted Congress will reject Mr. Eisenhower's proposal and perhaps pass one of its own.

He held out hope Congress will agree to a compromise despite House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack's statement Saturday, McCormack said there is so much disagreement on the subject that

Actor Gene Lockhart Dies

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Veteran actor Gene Lockhart died at St. John's hospital Sunday a few hours after suffering a heart attack at his West Los Angeles home. He was 65.

When Lockhart died, a Catholic priest, a nun, his wife, Kathleen, and their actress-daughter, June, 32, were at his hospital bedside.

A veteran of more than 300 motion pictures, Lockhart appeared most often in recent years in roles portraying a weak and cowardly little man. He began his career as an entertainer some 60 years ago.

As a writer, he produced over 400 sketches and many radio plays. He also wrote many songs, one of his most notable achievements in this field being the lyrics for "The World Is Waiting For The Sunrise."

Authorities End Squabble Over Officiating at Rites

OMAHA, Ill. (AP) — Authorities were summoned Saturday to end a squabble over who was to officiate at a man's funeral near here. Services were held at the Adkin Methodist Church for Edward (Bud) Robinson, 49, Omaha.

Gallatin County Sheriff Millard Holloway said that some members of Robinson's family and some members of the church objected to a member of Jehovah's Witnesses officiating at the funeral.

Holloway said he was told the church trustees had given permission for the Jehovah Witness member to officiate at the funeral in the church and that he and a state patrolman stood by while the services were held.

"There was no trouble while we were there, but there was a lot of talking," the sheriff said.

First Struck in 1948

Molitor said the mysterious maddening first struck while most of the children were swimming July 12, 1948.

"My son, Tom, was standing in a few feet of water and had dunked himself," the father said. "He stood up and then suddenly collapsed."

He said that although a coroner's report listed the death as caused by a heart ailment due to rheumatic fever, "Tom never had rheumatic fever."

However, Molitor said he and his wife had "in a way" come to believe the other deaths may have been "emotionally caused by Tom's unexpected death." He said, "We're a close family."

Ike Slows Down on Return to Capital After Caustic Comments on Speeding

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower slowed down Sunday—and critics of his high-speed auto trips cheered.

The President drew caustic comments over the week end for his driver's 70-mile-an-hour speeds en route to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm Friday.

Sunday, Mr. Eisenhower, with his wife and mother-in-law along, motored back to the capital at a more leisurely speed.

By-passing Rockville, Md., near where newsmen were flagged down Friday for exceeding the speed limit trying to keep up with the President, the Chief Executive took a back-road route to the White House.

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), who had denounced the President's speeding as "evident disregard" for traffic and safety laws, told the United Press he was "pleased" that the President on his return trip "followed the traffic laws like any good motorist should."

Neuberger said the tragic accident toll on the nation's highways makes it "imperative" for "the President of the United States to set an example for American motorists."

Mr. Eisenhower has made no comment on the attacks on his auto speed.

The President was clocked Friday at 1 hour and 45 minutes for the 79-mile trip to his farm. It took him 2 hours and 27 minutes Sunday to make the 85-mile back-road journey.

Without Any Reason

Couple Mourns Loss of 4th Child In 8 Years by Sudden Collapse

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A grieving Milwaukee couple prayed today that they will soon learn why death has claimed four of their six children in the past eight years "without any reason."

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Molitor will bury their daughter, Margaret Rose, 16, Tuesday. She was their fourth child to suffer an unexplained fatal collapse.

The father told United Press he "was at a loss" to explain the rash of deaths that have plagued his family since the summer of 1948.

"Doctors have never really been able to find any heart abnormalities," the construction company salesman said about his four dead children, Tom, 12; Fred, 12; Rita Marie, 12, and now Margaret, who died while kneeling at a funeral mass Friday.

Molitor said the mysterious maddening first struck while most of the children were swimming July 12, 1948.

"My son, Tom, was standing in a few feet of water and had dunked himself," the father said. "He stood up and then suddenly collapsed."

He said that although a coroner's report listed the death as caused by a heart ailment due to rheumatic fever, "Tom never had rheumatic fever."

However, Molitor said he and his wife had "in a way" come to believe the other deaths may have been "emotionally caused by Tom's unexpected death." He said, "We're a close family."

"Rita felt very bad about not being there when Tom died. She felt sure she could have saved him. The human mind does strange things," he said.

'Just Like Tom'

Rita collapsed and died while helping an elderly man from a street car on Dec. 13, 1949. "She died just like Tom," Molitor said.

The family next lost Fred, who collapsed and died while playing on Aug. 24, 1950.

"Fred and Tom were real close," the father said, "and Fred began getting blackouts after Tom's death. He told a doctor he felt bad ever since he saw Tom die."

Margaret began suffering "blackouts" spells about five or six years ago. "She always revived within minutes, but in church, the priest knew right away and got the holy oils," Molitor said.

He said it probably won't do doctors much good to "keep checking" his remaining two children, Donald, 24, and Yvonne, 15.

Autopsies failed to discover why Tom, Fred and Rita died, Molitor said, and he and his wife decided against an autopsy for Margaret.

Naval Training Station at Bainbridge, Maryland, and the Navy announced that it is believed this is the first time a brother and sister have both been enlisted in the same ceremony. Both were enlisted into the high school program the Navy operates exclusively for high school graduates. Onis Grisham stated he intended to take advantage of the dental technician school and his sister stated she intended to become a Navy Nurse.

Find $300,000 Check on Body Of Leon Marcus

Robbery Ruled Out In Kidnap-Slaying; Shot In Back of Head

CHICAGO (AP) — Police said today they found a check for $300,000 on the body of former banker Leon Marcus, 61, a figure in the 2 1/2 million dollar Orville Hodge scandal who was kidnaped and slain in a gangland-style "ride."

Marcus' body was found Sunday night dumped in a vacant South Side lot. He had been shot once in the back of the head with a .45 caliber pistol.

Authorities said the check was made out to Marcus and was drawn on the Society National Bank of Cleveland, Ohio. Authorities said his wallet also contained $1,649 in cash and $2,100 in travelers checks.

The name of the payer on the Cleveland check was "J. A. Harmon."

Acting Chief of Detectives William Touhy said robbery was "definitely" ruled out as the motive for the kidnap-slaying.

Inclined Toward Revenge

"I'm inclined to think the motive might have been revenge for something, or the murder may date back to the Hodge case," Touhy said. "Marcus was due for trial soon, and perhaps someone thought there might be some revelations."

Marcus owned controlling interest and was a former director of the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co., where ex-Illinois auditor Orville Hodge cashed most of his phony state checks.

Hodge and former Southmoor President Edward Hintz are serving prison terms in the giant embezzlement.

Marcus, who resigned from the bank shortly after the scandal broke, was under federal indictment on charges of misapplying bank funds.

Witness Hears Scuffle

Marcus and his brother, Hyman, former board chairman of the Southmoor bank, and a third man were charged in connection with alleged violations that preceded the Hodge case.

Authorities have been unable to discover what Hodge did with all the money he embezzled. During the investigation, there were reports some of the funds found their way into the pockets of downstate hoodlums, but authorities were unable to substantiate the rumors.

Marcus was abducted moments after leaving the apartment of Alfred Rado and his wife, who owns a construction firm.

Rado told police he accompanied Marcus to the front door and a short time later heard sounds of a scuffle outside, and Marcus shouted, "Call the police."

A witness, Ralph Ferane, 14, said he saw "five or six men who looked young" force Marcus into a car. Rado said he thought he saw four men wrestle the victim into the late model auto.

Marcus last year appeared before a Senate banking committee investigating alleged Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. violations stemming from the Hodge case.

He also is a co-defendant with Mr. and Mrs. Rado in a $200,000 civil suit charging he got illegal commissions from the Rados' firm in return for giving the company large bank loans.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
White House Phone Calls Killed Tax Relief For Small Business: Cyrus Eaton, The Cleveland Banker, Urges Probe Of Secretary Humphrey; Some Democratic Senators Fear Humphrey Will Probe Their Taxes.

WASHINGTON. — One of the GOP campaign pledges pounded on prior to Nov. 6 was aid for small business. President Eisenhower promised at Lexington, Ky., on Oct. 1: "I shall call for further help to small business with some dozen specific recommendations for action, including special tax measures." He also said on Oct. 22 that he "planned to ask Congress to give small businessmen about $600,000,000 in tax relief."

Last week, however, Republicans lined up almost solid against an amendment to the tax bill by Sen. William Fulbright of Arkansas giving 8 per cent tax relief to small business netting up to $25,000. The final vote was 52 to 33 against the amendment.

After the vote, GOP Sen. Alex Smith (N. J.) rushed over to Fulbright to apologize for his vote.
"Billy boy," Smith said, "you know I'm all with you, but I couldn't go along. I just had a call from the White House asking me to vote against the amendment as a personal favor. I couldn't refuse."

Another Republican friend of small business, Senator Thye (Minn.) stated that he also had been called by the White House and asked to vote against the small business tax relief amendment. Thye's call was reported to have come from Secretary of Treasury George Humphrey;
Smith's call from Sherman
Adams.

Republican Senator Case (S.
D.), the man who courageously exposed the scandalous lobbying practices of the oil companies on the Natural Gas bill, was one of the few Republicans who stuck by their promises and convictions.
When he voted in favor of small business, however, he was quickly surrounded by Republican colleagues who demanded that he change his vote. Case shouted in reply loud enough for many to hear:

"I don't write letters one way and vote the other."

Another of the few Republican senators voting for small business tax relief was Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin.

Note 1—Fulbright's amendment would have given small business a total of $600,000,000 of tax relief, exactly the amount proposed by Eisenhower on Oct. 22. Fulbright's proposal was the lesser of several proposals, those by Sen.
Sparkman of Alabama going much further. They never had a chance.

Note 2—Remarkable Sen. McNamara of Michigan when the voting was all over: "A modern Republican is one who talks like Franklin Roosevelt and votes like Herbert Hoover."

TWO TYCOONS FROM CLEVELAND
Cyrus Eaton of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad and the Cleveland investment firm, Otis and Co., had a recent private huddle with top Democratic leaders regarding another well-known Clevelander, Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey.

Eaton urged a full Senate investigation of Humphrey, pointed out that the secretary of the treasury has not sold his stock in his family M. A. Hanna Co., said the stock had appreciated some $800-000,000 while Humphrey was in the Treasury, and that almost everything the Treasury handled Humphrey's private interests in some way or other.

Foreign business firms, he pointed out, had in some cases purchased coal from Humphrey's Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co., largest coal company in the world, because their countries had to do important business with the secretary of the Treasury. Humphrey is a member of the board which controls the Export-Import Bank from which many countries have to borrow money.

Those who conferred with Eaton included Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas. The senators were hesitant about investigating Humphrey. Some of them feared he would retaliate against them through Internal Revenue, which can investigate their income taxes.

Later, Eaton wrote a private letter to the senators, dated March 9, which follows:

$60 BILLION ORBIT
"A further illustration of the manner in which George Humphrey continually uses his high public post to buttress his private business interests is provided by the recent re-emption of top offices of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland by Humphrey henchmen.

"First, Arthur Van Buskirk, a director of Humphrey's Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal company, was made chairman of the bank. This was swiftly followed by the naming of J. H. Thompson, president of Humphrey's M. A.
Hanna Co., as vice chairman of the bank. With these adroit moves, another powerful financial institution boasting assets of $4-755,000,000 was added to the Humphrey orbit, to bring to the incredible total of $60,755,000,000 the combined assets of the corporations interlocked by officers and directors in the Humphrey-Hanna-Pittsburgh Consol group.

"This does not tell the whole story, however, for there are other companies in which Humphrey exercises great influence without representation among officers and directors. One conspicuous example is Standard Oil of New Jersey, in which M. A. Hanna Company owns stock worth $26,885,772 and which has total assets of $7,164,000,000. Standard Oil follows the policy of putting its own paid officers on its board.

"Adding the assets of Standard Oil of New Jersey to the assets of the companies with interlocking officers and directors raises the total to the overpowering figure of $67,900,000,000.

"Since the secretary of the Treasury holds office by virtue of Senate approval, does not the Senate have a continuing moral obligation to take corrective action when the secretary constantly uses his official public position to further his private business fortunes?"

NEW TAX ATTORNEY
Note — Latest addition to the Humphrey entourage is Nelson Rose as counsel of Internal Revenue. He is a member of the Cleveland law firm of Jones, Day, Cockley and Reavis, which happens to be the law firm representing Humphrey's far-flung industrial empire. Chapman Rose, legal counsel for M. A. Hanna & Co., formerly served as assistant secretary of the Treasury. Now his brother Nelson has come to Washington to hold an Internal Revenue position which has the power to drop or prosecute tax cases. It is one of the most powerful posts in government.

First U. S. Military Hospital Still Stands

BOSTON (AP)—Still standing here is America's first official military hospital. It is the so-called Loring Greenough house in Boston's Jamaica Plain district, which was built by a British naval officer in 1759. By order of the Provincial Congress in June 1775, the house was made a military hospital. Until the British evacuation of Boston March 17, 1776, Gen. George Washington was a frequent visitor at the house. Today the historic house is one of several being considered as a possible official mansion for Massachusetts' governor.

YEP, IT'S SPRING—Students open the spring quarter at Southern Illinois University by riding to class in a 1922 Model T truck. Freshman Gerald Coulter drove the vehicle to Carbondale from his home at Marissa, 58 miles away, in four hours. Once used by a fruit vendor in St. Louis, the truck has been overhauled, averages 18 miles to a gallon of gas. (SIU Photo Service)

Morgan finished his shaving, put on a clean white shirt and a heavy sack coat. He tied a knot in a black tie and got his hat. He consulted his heavy watch and discovered that it was still only 20 minutes after seven.

Cass would need all of an hour to get dressed for the dance, possibly more time, if she was able to take a bath.

He left the office, stood outside for a moment, then strode toward the door of The Longhorn Saloon, conveniently near.

The bar was doing a fair business. Standing by it was General Simcoe, in a long gray overcoat from which gold braid had been removed. Several cowboys were also lined up.

"General," said Morgan, as he came up, "it's a pleasure to see you again."

"Ah, Mr. Morgan, I was hoping you would stop by. This is Sam Acres, my foreman and trail boss."

A leathery-faced cowboy gripped Morgan's hand. "It's just about a year since you came to the ranch. I remember we was doin' some target shootin' when you rode up."

"You mean," said Morgan, chuckling, "you were teaching Miss Cass how to draw and fire a Navy gun without aiming?"

Sam Acres grinned. "Mr. Morgan, she can outdraw me today. And outshoot me."

"Yes, Cassie's a fine marksman," agreed General Simcoe. "She's also good at breaking horses and riding herd. She knows little of the things a woman should know, however. And that is why she is not going back to Texas with me."

"I don't understand?"

"I'm sending her to St. Louis. She takes the train tomorrow and will spend the winter at a school for young ladies. The school has been highly recommended to me, by an old army friend of mine, who has two daughters there now."

Cass had not told Morgan.

Tom Alder, wearing a long bear-skin overcoat, appeared. He had his hands thrust in his pockets and apparently had no intention of shaking Morgan's hand.

"How are you?" Morgan said quietly.

"Not good, not bad. I went to Texas and got together a little herd of my own. Five hundred head, I got here with under 300."

"The Comanches raided us in the Panhandle," explained the general. "There was virtually no water in the Indian Nations and we were stampeded twice by Indians."

We left the home ranch with 5,000 steers and we reached here with about 3,500 head, not counting Mr. Alder's."

"You came together?"

"We threw our herds together, after the Comanche raid," said General Simcoe. "Well, I learned one thing. Not to drive cattle this late in the season. Our beef is about as scrawny as you ever saw it."

Morgan drew out his watch again. "General, I'm taking a young lady to the dance this evening. I have to pick her up at the hotel."

The general's face showed sudden pleasure. "Why, that's fine, Mr. Morgan. I will, perhaps, stop in myself and will see you there."

"Can anybody go to this here dance, Mr. Morgan?" asked Tom Alder.

"Anyone with a dollar," Morgan replied.

He went to the hotel.

The door of the office behind the desk was open, but the room was dark. Morgan breathed a little easier. He looked at his watch. It was five minutes after eight.

Heels clicked on the uncarpeted stairs leading to the second floor of the hotel and then Cass appeared.

Her face was scrubbed so that it glowed, her hair was shiny and soft and looked the color of rich taffy. She was wearing a green velvet dress that revealed bare, golden shoulders.

"She's a young woman," Morgan thought.

She saw Morgan and stopped on the bottom step. "The general took me to Austin," she said. "I'm going to live in St. Louis this winter and—well, he said I had to learn how to wear women's clothes."

"You're beautiful, Cass!"

"I'm not," declared Cass, coming toward him. "I'm a scrawny cowhand from Texas."

"You'll be the prettiest girl at the ball," Morgan insisted.

She had a cape over her arm and Morgan took it and helped her on with it. Cass looked at him slyly, then slipped a hand under his arm.

Six weeks before, Morgan had sold a man from Kansas City two lots. The man had hired a building crew and they threw up a frame building 40 feet wide by 50 deep. Then the owner of the building had decided that he would wait until spring before stocking the store with a line of low-priced furniture.

The building was vacant and since it was ideal for the purposes of the grand ball, it was being utilized for that. A four-piece band had been imported from Kansas City and it was playing a noisy tune when Morgan and Cass Simcoe entered the "ballroom."

There were about 30 people already in the room, more than two-thirds of them men, for men still outnumbered women by at least four to one in Pawnee City.

When Morgan entered with Cass Simcoe, he found Fesler, the newspaperman, seated at a small table just inside the door, collecting admissions. Behind him stood Wild Jack Mason.

Area Educations On TV Program
Celebrating 100th Birthday of NEA

An elaborate one-hour program celebrating the 100th anniversary of the National Education Association was presented on Jean Collette's Eye on Tomorrow show over WSIL-TV Saturday morning.

Taking part in the program were educators from the 14 counties comprising the Southern Division of the Illinois Education Association and the event included the cutting of a huge birthday cake.

Chief speakers were Raymond L. Foster, formerly of Harrisburg and now of Carbondale, retiring president of the Southern division, and Russell Malan, Harrisburg superintendent of schools who is a past president of the Illinois Education Association.

Advances Under NEA

Mr. Foster spoke of the advances under the NEA during the past hundred years and Mr. Malan of what could be expected in the future.

Afr H. W. Ellis, Herrin educator who was the Town Crier in colonial costume, heralded the event, Miss Collette took over in presenting the program.

Mr. Foster pointed out that the NEA has led the way from the most rudimentary type of education with the crudest equipment and limited curricula to a much fuller type with modern equipment.

He told of the early schools where pupils studied aloud to prove they were studying, of revolting sanitation practices.

He moved up to the present day and concluded by pointing to the appropriateness of the NEA's Centennial theme, "An Educated People Moves Freedom Forward."

Plans For Future

Mr. Malan looked to 2000 A. D., only 53 years away. He said "we will see more of audio-visual aids and television in schools."

He urged educators to make no little plans for the future but to make plans that might now look impossible.

"Plans in the past many times looked impossible and succeeded," he stated.

After a vocal number by Miss

Collette, all counties had a representative pass in review telling of a specific subject in the field of education. The subjects and the speakers:

Reading, Mrs. Tate, Murphysboro schools, Jackson county; Writing, Pattie Cole, Cairo schools, Alexander county; Spelling, Horace Brown, Gallatin county superintendent of schools; Arithmetic, Earnest Hood, McLeansboro schools, Hamilton county; History, Jack Simmons, Rosiclare schools, Hardin county; Science, William Carruthers, Murphysboro schools, Jackson county;

Art, Miss Irene Brock, Du Quoin schools, Perry county; Music, Stanley Veach, Vienna schools, Johnson county; Languages, B. D. Fowler, Metropolis schools, Massac county; Homemaking, Howard Wright and Katherine Durfee, Golconda schools, Pope county;

Cut Birthday Cake
Building and Trades, George Carr, Harrisburg Junior high school, Saline county; Sports and Physical Education, Ruth Herrin, Herrin schools, Williamson county; Literature-Speech-Dramatics, Mrs. Lucille Howell, Anna schools, Union county.

During the last half of the program William Carruthers of Murphysboro acted as roving reporter and there was the cutting of the big birthday cake by Mr. Foster. Then all in the studio sang "Happy Birthday, NEA."

Honored guests were presented scrolls by Reporter Carruthers, and those receiving them included two from Saline county, Mr. Malan and Miss Bess Pemberton, who retired as an HTS faculty member after 53 years of teaching.

Others receiving them included: Dr. Victor Randolph of SIU; Mr. Carruthers, a past president of the IEA; John L. Thomas of Carbondale, Helen Ryan, IEA state director of Springfield; H. W. Homman, the incoming president; and a number of others.

J. Lester Buford of Mt. Vernon, past president of the National Education Association, could not take part in the program because he was to make a speech at the University of Illinois Saturday.

THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER

Most glamorous car in a generation

Biggest winner in Chrysler history!

No wonder the big switch is to Chrysler! Its years-ahead styling has made it the most imitated car in America. No man or woman can travel in it unnoticed. Yet Chrysler's 1957 value is even more outstanding than its fabulous 1957 style. Just compare the actual value Chrysler gives you:

• Torsion-Aire Ride is a revolution in car suspension and driving control . . . no more leaning on curves . . . no more brake dip when you stop.

• Pushbutton TorqueFlite is the easiest, smoothest, and most trouble-free transmission of them all.

• Total-Contact Brakes are the biggest and surest in business today with an effective braking area of 251 sq. in.

• Most Powerful Engine On The Road . . . 325 hp in the New Yorker, 295 hp in the Saratoga illustrated.

• More Leg and Shoulder Room than any car in its price class.

• More Unobstructed Glass Area than any car in its price class. 1436 square inches in the windshield alone.

• Highest Resale Value in all Chrysler history.

These are the things people want most in a fine car today. You expect more of them . . . and you get more of them . . . in Chrysler. They add up to an irresistible value. That's why so many people are becoming new Chrysler owners. How about you? Come in and find out for yourself what makes the 1957 Chrysler the most glamorous car in a generation.

United Press Staff Correspondent
SPRINGFIELD — The 70th General Assembly turns into the second half of its session today, with all of its major work still to be done.

Not a single piece of major legislation has yet cleared the General Assembly, although the lawmakers have been working longer and faster than is usual in the first half of the session.

Most of Gov. William G. Stratton's program has been introduced in the Legislature and committees are working over some of the top problems, but final action on most key measures must be held up until the governor presents his budget message, tentatively set for April 9.

The budget message will include Stratton's proposals for avoiding a new sales tax increase this session. These proposals, according to legislative leaders, will include a plan for shifting $50 million of the public aid burden to local governments by requiring increased or new local taxes for relief and aid to dependent children.

Even if the governor is able to avoid a new sales tax boost this year, the Legislature will have to enact a new law to extend the 1955 half-cent increase for another two years. The 1955 law put the extra half-cent tax on for two years only, but legislative leaders said "There is not a chance for the tax to go back to 2 cents this session."

Korean Bonus: Senate and House committees have overwhelmingly approved the bonus plan, and the governor is reported to be in favor of a bonus, although he vetoed one in 1955. The bonus plan would cost $75 million and be paid for with a 1-cent cigarette tax increase.

Hodge Scandal Reform: The House has passed, and sent to the Senate, bills to create a new department of financial institutions to regulate banks and similar institutions now under the state auditor and insurance department.

However, proposed constitutional amendments to abolish the auditor and treasurer as elective officers and make them appointive under the governor are bogged down in the Senate Executive Committee.

The Senate Executive Committee also has before it the governor's proposal for an auditor general to be appointed by him to replace the elected auditor. Also before the committee is a contrary proposal for the Legislature to appoint the auditor general. Sen. W. Russell Arrington (R-Evanston), sponsor of the bill for a legislative auditor, has promised a "show-down" this week on the two proposals and indicated he would not back down and accept the governor's proposal.

Highway Safety: The governor's bill for flat speed limits on state highways, doubling of the state police force and an increase from $1 to $3 in the drivers license fee, with the additional money going to high school driver training programs, were introduced last week in the House. Sentiment is growing among legislators for the absolute speed limits which were defeated in 1955.

Construction Bond Issue: The governor's proposed $238 million bond issue for construction at welfare and higher education institutions is being heard by a Senate committee of the whole, with several members seeking an increase in the amount of the bond issue. The additional money is being sought for the four teachers colleges and the state mental hospitals.

Judicial Reform: Three judicial reform amendments have been introduced, but no action has been taken on any of them by House or Senate committees.

18-year-old-Vote: Executive committees in both houses have before them proposed constitutional amendments to lower the voting age, but have taken no action so far.

Constitutional Convention: Democrats have introduced a resolution calling for a convention to rewrite the 1870 state constitution, but the governor, who recommended a convention in his inaugural message, has not yet had his proposal introduced into the Legislature.

Chances for the Legislature approving the calling of a convention are considered next to non-existent.

Annual Legislative Sessions: A legislative study commission has recommended annual sessions, with the new session in even-numbered years to be limited to budget matters, but nothing has yet been introduced in the Legislature to carry out the recommendation.

Right-to-Work: A bill banning union shop contracts in Illinois has been introduced and referred to the House Judiciary Committee for study.

Truman Name a Handicap for Baby, Ex-President Says

NEW YORK — Former President Harry S. Truman engaged reporters and admirers in one of his famous early morning walkie-talkie "contests" today and proved conclusively that although he'll be 73 years old next month, he's lost none of his vitality.

Mr. Truman easily walked and talked his way 26 blocks down Park Avenue to a breakfast with new local taxes for relief and aid to dependent children.

A heavy-breathing reporter asked Mr. Truman if he had any choice of names for his future grandchild. The former President's daughter, Margaret, now Mrs. Clifton Daniel, is expecting a baby in July.

"One thing I'm adamant about," Mr. Truman grinned, "is that if it's a boy they don't name him after me. It would handicap him the rest of his life."

The former President said his nephew named after him fought in World War II and "they almost devilled him to death." He added that "The worst thing in the world is to have a president in the family."

Possible Check on Marcus Signed by Late Oil Promoter

EVANSVILLE, Ind. — The Evansville Press today raised the possibility that the $300,000 check found on slain Chicago banker Leon Marcus was signed by the late John O. Harmon, an oil promoter killed in an automobile accident near Carmi, Ill., last Sept. 22.

The check was drawn on the Society National Bank of Cleveland, Ohio. The check bore the notation, "main office." The space for the number of the check was blank, but there were these figures: 6-163, underscored; and beneath that figure: 410. The check was dated June 28, 1956. It was not endorsed on the back.

The check was reported signed by John A. Harmon, but Chicago police said that the "A" might be an "O." Detectives said "It would take a handwriting expert to tell."

MOUND CITY, Ill. — A Pulaski County grand jury has returned a murder indictment against P. B. C. Lewis, a 56-year-old Negro minister charged with bludgeoning and shooting his wife to death.

FTC Issues First Complaints Against False Advertising

WASHINGTON — The Federal Trade Commission has issued the first charges in its new drive against "false advertising" on television.

The complaints were made Sunday night against the Mentholatum Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.—maker of "Mentholatum Rub"—and Whitehall Pharmaceutical Co., New York City, producer of "Infrarub" and "Heet."

A third company — the Omega Chemical Co. Inc., Jersey City, N. J., distributor of "Omega Oil"—was charged with false radio and newspaper advertising.

According to the three complaints, none of the products is "an adequate, effective or reliable treatment for the aches and pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and related diseases, as is claimed."

Cowboy Tactics Used to Corral Runaway Motorboat

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. — Wabash County Boat Club members here used cowboy tactics Sunday to corral a runaway motorboat.

At the same time they rescued two men who had been washed out of their boat by a wave from a passing craft and were in danger of going over a nearby dam.

J. W. Conklin and Bill De Jourmet were dumped into the Wabash River by the passing boat. Their boat did not capsize and began circling in the river.

Dr. John Connors, Ed Walker and Bob Meier, 16, rescued the men and Connors boarded the runaway boat and piloted it to shore.

Federal Payroll Tops Billion Dollars

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senator Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) reported today that the cost of meeting Uncle Sam's payroll rose to an all-time record in January.

Counting 17 million dollars paid to foreign nationals employed by the United States, he said, the federal payroll topped 1 billion dollars.

Byrd's statement was based on figures collected for his joint committee on reduction of federal expenditures.

He said the government paid wages of 990 million dollars to the 2,387,015 civilians employed in January. He said the number of employees rose by 3,492 in February, for which payroll cost figures were not yet available.

Charges Farms Purchased with Soil Bank Subsidies

WASHINGTON — Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss.), a leader of the farm bloc, charges that city residents are buying farms and paying them off with federal soil bank subsidies.

Whitten, chairman of a House agricultural appropriations subcommittee, said in testimony made public Sunday night that he has "had people in my office citing instance after instance" of such practices.

Under the soil bank program, the government will pay farm owners for not producing surplus crops.

Whitten's statement was made during a long and often sharp examination of Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson last Feb. 26.

Agriculture Department officials conceded there have been "a few scattered reports" of such instances.

But these "few cases" have been widely publicized and the publicity has put farmers "on their guard," one official said.

"Farmers have been able to raise the asking prices for their land, knowing the buyers could take advantage of the federal subsidy," he said.

Three disasters at the mine in recent years killed 16 miners.

Senate Control At Stake in Texas Election

AUSTIN, Tex. — Top Democratic candidates in what has been described as the most unpredictable free-for-all in Texas political history predicted today it will be one of their party who comes out winner Tuesday in a special Senate election.

Eighteen Democrats and two Republicans are seeking the office. There is no runoff—high man wins.

One of the Republicans, attorney Thad Hutcheson of Houston, a political novice, has the backing of President Eisenhower. Vice President Richard M. Nixon and his state GOP organization.

Hutcheson's chances are enhanced by the split in the Democratic ranks although the state by tradition sends Democrats to the Senate.

But the Houston attorney faces stiff competition in an election that may see only 800,000 voters go to the poll.

The leading Democratic contenders in the race are Rep. Martin Dies, congressman-at-large who has carried his campaign across the state; Ralph Yarborough, an Austin attorney who came within 3,000 votes of upsetting Price Daniel in the latter's bid for the governorship last summer; agriculture Commissioner John White; State Sen. Searcy Bracewell, Houston, and James P. Hart of Austin, former chancellor of the University of Texas and a former justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

Control of the Senate is at stake. If a Republican should win the GOP could break the Democratic majority in the Senate. Present alignment is 49 Democrats, 47 Republicans. Nixon could break a tie.

Boy Kills Four Of Family in Rage

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Apr. 1 — A teen-aged boy who police said methodically murdered four members of his family in a rage because his mother threw away his hunting rifle was held today for juvenile authorities.

A fifth intended victim was in critical condition, shot through the windpipe.

Police said Daniel Woolridge, 14, confessed Sunday night he shot his father, mother, brother and two sisters "in a fit of rage." He then went to a movie, where he had two malted milks and a bag of popcorn, before surrendering.

Woolridge sobbed occasionally during the confession, police said, but slept soundly when returned to his cell.

Sleeps Soundly

Killed were Ossie Woolridge, 57; his wife, Nellie, 45; Paul, 6, and Dolores, 11. Critically wounded was Doris, 12.

The shooting was discovered hours later by another brother, Joe, 19, when he came to visit the family. He called police and an ambulance.

The ambulance arrived with another brother, Melvin, 22, a funeral home employee, at the wheel.

Police said Daniel had not been in trouble before. The shooting spree occurred shortly after the family returned home from church Sunday afternoon.

The assessor's duty to the citizens of this township is to fairly and impartially assess all property on an equal basis so that each citizen will pay his fair share of taxes and no more.

The assessor must also do this in sufficient time to turn over his books to the Board of Review for their work on them so that they will not have to stay in session for a prolonged time.

The Board of Review costs the county a large amount of money if they are required to stay in session for a long period of time, and unless they receive the assessor's books in time they must stay in session until they are completed.

I am 55 years old, married and have 2 children in my home to take care of. I have resided in this township practically all my life and know the importance of saving money for tax payers.

I am a working man, having worked on the railroad since 1922, and will treat everyone fairly and impartially and do my utmost to save the tax payers every cent that I can save them by completing my work in the time allotted for that purpose.

I have taken extension work in accounting and bookkeeping and have served as clerk for the New York Central in keeping books and accounts and am the Treasurer for the New York Central Employees Credit Union and believe that I am competent to accurately make assessments in this township.

Your vote and influence will be deeply appreciated.

Assessors Begin Annual Census In Rural Areas

Township assessors and deputies in rural townships started their twentieth annual enumeration of farm land, crops and livestock in connection with their assessment of personal property today. The only change in the items to be listed in that, cowpeas, a dwindling crop, has been replaced by grass silage, the acreage of which is increasing. Although the assessors' figures show Illinois farms are losing acreage each year to towns, highways, airports, and other non-agricultural use, farm acreage still makes up 85 percent of the State's land area, according to J. A. Ewing, Statistician for the Illinois State Department of Agriculture.

Each farm operator will be asked how many acres he is operating in 1957 and the acres of the various crops harvested on that land in 1956 whether he, himself, farmed it last year or not. The crops include corn, small grains, soybeans, grass silage, the principal kinds of hay, seed, such as red clover, timothy and lespedeza, and miscellaneous crops such as sweet corn, popcorn and truck crops. Other land use in 1956 includes plowland and other pasture and all other acreage such as idle and waste ground, woods not pastured, lots, and land put in the Soil Bank. The sum of the acres of the various crops harvested, together with pasture and other land use in 1956 should add to total land in the farm being operated in 1957. For example, on a 240 acre farm being operated in 1957, a complete accounting of crops and other land use on that acreage in 1956 was as follows: 70 acres of corn, 25 acres of oats, 12 acres of wheat, 45 acres of soybeans, 35 acres of alfalfa hay, 20 acres of plowland pasture, 22 acres of other pasture and 11 acres of all other land including woods not pastured and lots.

Farm operators will be asked to report number of milk cows and heifers two years old and over on hand the day the assessor visits them, also number of hens and pullets of laying age on that day. They will be asked to report number of grain fed cattle they marketed in 1956, also number of other cattle marketed last year such as cull dairy cows, veal calves, feeders and bulls. There will be the usual two questions on sows—number of fall sows that farrowed between June 1, 1956 and December 1, 1956, and number of spring sows that have farrowed or will farrow between December 1, 1956 and June 1, 1957.

Set Up Program To Rehabilitate Mentally Ill

CARBONDALE, Ill.—A program to make the rehabilitation of mentally ill people a "community wide challenge" is being set up by the Anna State hospital in cooperation with Southern Illinois University and two state agencies.

Dr. R. C. Steck, superintendent of the hospital, said three separate committees will be appointed to implement the program, aimed at broadening the scope of rehabilitation efforts throughout Southern Illinois.

One of the committees will be a "community council" of interested citizens in the 22 downstate counties served by the hospital. The council will work with a group drawn from the Chiefs of Services of other Illinois institutions as well as a third group composed of SIU staff specialists.

Also cooperating in the effort are the state Division of Vocational Rehabilitation and the Department of Public Welfare.

I have had 31 years experience in meeting the public as a grocery sales clerk and as operator of my own grocery business for the past 19 years. I also had the honor of being elected and served four years as the Street and Alley Commissioner of the City of Harrisburg.

I am a member of the Dorrisville Baptist Church, the Masonic Lodge and the I. O. O. F.

I believe that my experience in the City Government and the many years of meeting the public in my work at earning a living have fully qualified me for the job I am now seeking. Certainly as a taxpayer, home owner and family man, I am very much interested in an economical and business-like administration of our Township and County's business.

I am fully aware of the duties of the Supervisor as Overseer of the Poor and understand clearly that Chapter 102-Paragraph 3 of the Illinois Revised Statutes would make it unlawful for me, if I am elected, to accept relief orders written to my store by myself or any of my employees.

CARL TUTTLE

Democratic Candidate

Supervisor of Harrisburg Township

To The Voters of Galatia Township, Saline County, Illinois

I am a candidate for the office of Constable in the election to be held on Tuesday, April 2nd, 1957.

I am the son of the late Joseph F. Watson of Galatia Township. I was born and reared on the farm in the Ebenezer community and have always had to work hard for a living.

I have never been arrested or had to pay a fine! During World War Two I spent eighteen months in the service of the U. S. Army and 9½ months of this time was served overseas.

I have worked for the State of Illinois as guard at the Menard prison and Joliet prison for a period of four years. I feel that I am qualified to hold the office that I am seeking.

Due to me having to work every day, it will be impossible for me to see each voter personally, but anything said or done in my behalf will be deeply appreciated, and I earnestly solicit your VOTE.

Celtics, Hawks Even in Series

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Celtics began a week of practice today after returning to form with a steamrollering win over the St. Louis Hawks Sunday, tying their National Basketball Association championship playoff series at one game apiece.

Boston played the brand of ball in posting a 119-99 victory at the Garden as it did most of the regular season when it ran away with the Eastern Division laurels. The completely one-sided triumph was a reversal of Saturday's game when the Celtics bowed, 125-123, in a double overtime to the fired-up Hawks in the first of their best of seven series.

The third and fourth games are slated for Saturday and Sunday at St. Louis.

Bob Cousy and Frank Ramsey emerged with Celtic scoring honors Sunday with 22 points apiece.

The team, Johnson Hall, a Baptist women's dormitory, lost to Sigma Kappa, 37-33, in the finals. Team members are Coach Shirley Harvengt, front row left, Valier; Sue Moyer, Ridgeway; Clara Mullen, Granite City; Anne Croft, Anna; Barbara Williamson, Mounds; captain Pat Abney, back row left, Galatia; Sharon Farmer, Valier; Darlene Kaseberg, Granite City; Kay Riffey, Girard; and LaVerna Grote, Granite City. Friend Fires Five-Hitter At Cardinals as Pirates Win, 5-1; Lemon Wins 4th Game

By United Press
Add Bob Friend and Bob Lemon to the list of pitchers who are ready for their opening day assignments.

The two rugged right-handers flashed mid-season form Sunday as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-1, and the Cleveland Indians beat the Baltimore Orioles, 8-3.

Friend, a 17-game winner last season, became the first Pirate hurler to go nine innings when he fired a five-hitter at the Cardinals. Bill Virdon led the Pirates' attack with three singles as the Bucs chalked up their 13th victory in 19 Grapefruit games.

Rookie Paces Cubs

Lemon, who won 20 games last year, yielded five hits in six innings to gain credit for his fourth win of the spring. Jim Hegan and Roger Maris paced the attack with homers to lead the Indians to their fourth straight triumph and give them an 11-9 spring record.

Dick Drott, a 20-year-old rookie who led the Pacific Coast League in strikeouts last year, turned in a nifty two-hitter over the nine-inning route to give the Chicago Cubs a 3-2 decision over the New York Giants.

Don Larsen, the World Series perfect game hero, went seven innings in his longest sting of the spring as the New York Yankees downed the Kansas City Athletics, 7-3.

Braves Nip Senators
Shortstop Felix Mantilla's 12th inning homer provided the Milwaukee Braves with an 8-7 decision.

NEW YORK: A team of Eastern college basketball all-stars beat its Western counterpart, 73-63, before 13,448 fans at Madison Square Garden.

NEW YORK: The Harlem Globetrotters opened their eighth cross-country tour with an easy 64-44 win over the College All-Stars.

Dick Donovan and Jim Wilson held the National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers to three hits and hurled the Chicago White Sox to a 7-1 victory.

Ted Kluszewski doubled home the tie-breaking run in the eighth inning and the Cincinnati Redlegs went on to beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-1.

Jackie Jensen's disputed three-run homer in the eighth inning produced a 3-0 victory for the Boston Red Sox over the New Orleans Pelicans. Manager Harry Lowery of the Pelicans disputed Umpire Art McIntyre's decision on the "fair or foul" drive to no avail.

East Defeats West; Trotters Beat All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP)—Charley Tyra of Louisville, Bill Ebben of Detroit and Lennie Rosenbluth of North Carolina made the biggest impressions on National Basketball Association "spies" during the weekend as the season ended in New York.

Tyra's showing in Saturday's East-West charity game may make him the No. 1 choice in the coming NBA draft meeting at St. Louis.

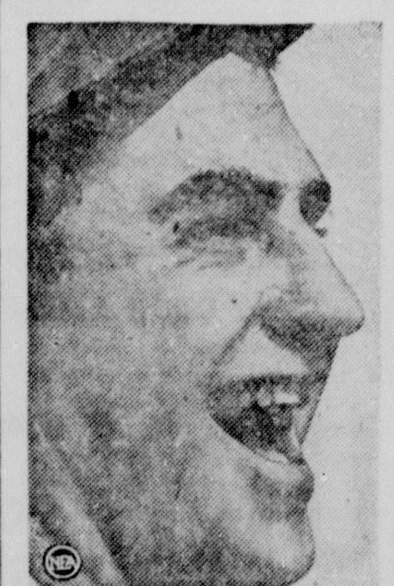

Tyra's 20 points and 15 rebounds were individual highs as he teamed with Gerry Paulson of Manhattan, Dick Duckett of St. John's, Jim Palmer of Dayton and Rosenbluth to spark an East rally that produced a 73-63 victory.

The local basketball season wound up Sunday when the Harlem Globetrotters opened their 19-game, 19-city cross-country tour against the College All-Stars with an easy, 64-44 triumph. Rosenbluth, Ebben, Chet Forte of Columbia, John Smyth of Notre Dame and the rest of the Collegians were no match for the Trotters. But the Trotters didn't put on enough of their comedy routines to please the 15,563 Madison Square Garden fans.

LOOKS GOOD—Ted Kluszewski's Florida smile seems to indicate the Redlegs are in for a pennant this season. But Klus's hip could be a question.

Billy Meyer, Former Winner of Minor, Major Manager of Year Awards, Dies

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Funeral services will be held Tuesday for William A. (Billy) Meyer, baseball luminary who had the rare distinction of winning both major and minor league "manager of the year" awards.

The former Pittsburgh Pirate leader, 65, died at Fort Sanders Hospital Sunday after almost two years of declining health. He was troubled by uremic poisoning and a heart condition.

The silver-thatched, 1948 major league pilot of the year, had been listed in serious and critical condition since entering the hospital March 7.

Meyer had lived in retirement at his memento-filled home here since 1935. He had acted as Pirate farm system "trouble shooter" for three years following the 1952 season, his last as a field leader.

As a minor league manager, Meyer had few peers. He copped eight pennants in four different leagues, three at Kansas City which was then in the American Association.

Alexander Hamilton, his father and his 19-year-old son all were killed in duels.

Army Reduces Enlistees' Ready Reserve Period

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has cut service from eight to three and one-half years for enlistees in its ready reserve program.

The Army announced the change Friday in a major move to boost sagging enlistments in the program.

The major change affected young men 17 to 18 1/2 who enlist for six months' active duty training.

Up to now they have been required to spend an additional 7 1/2 years in the ready reserve, participating in 48 two-hour drill sessions and 15 days in summer camp each year. Now ready reserve service will be three years following the six months of active duty training.

After 3 1/2 years, the reservist will go on the standby list for 4 1/2 years, meaning that he is available for call-up in a war.

The new program is effective April 1, the same time that the Army's new National Guard training takes effect.

$132,318 Savings Bonds Sold in County in February

Saline county residents purchased $132,318 in Series E and H United States Savings Bonds in the month of February, according to figures received from the Savings Bonds Division of the U. S. Treasury Department by Volunteer Savings Bonds county chairman, Harley H. Shepherd of Harrisburg.

Walter J. Lozier, Acting State Director of the Savings Bonds Division for Illinois, announced that sales of both Series in the state totaled $33,709,104 last month, a decline of 26.1% from sales for February, 1956. National sales for the month of both Series were $360,583,000, with Illinois sales accounting for 9.3% of the national total.

In the first two months of this year, 17.7% of the Illinois quota has been attained. The Illinois annual quota is $444,000,000.

Coal exports in 1957 will reach an all-time peak of 55,000,000 tons, according to Keystone Coal Buyers Manual, which anticipates a gain of 14.6 per cent from the 1956 level of 48,000,000 tons.
